

CAREER TRANSITION WORKPLACE ATTACHMENT PROGRAMME

CAREER CHANGE

In the face of challenges of the ageing population and technological disruption, it is quintessential that mature officers who are moving on to a second career have a clear perspective of the local employment landscape and be given a hand to access new opportunities that have become increasingly prominent.

The Career Transition Workplace Attachment Programme (CTWAP) primes officers with opportunities to learn new skills in a new job outside Home Team Agencies and take concrete steps to adapt to the next leg in their career journey.

Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the CTWAP, the participant should be able to:

- assess accurately one's personal career needs against the challenges and emerging demands of our changing employment landscape;
- better match the requirement of the job role by leveraging on one's strength whilst being aware of career that would require adaptation of personal barriers and limitations;
- identify areas to work on effective preparations according to the latest protocol and industry expectations; and
- ascertain degree of job fit for win-win outcome in the next move.
